Atriums, curtain wall, Frick Chemistry Laboratory - Princeton, New Jersey

Hopkins Architects
London built an huge project for a major UK shopping chain using Nyalic clear capsule coat. Having found Nyalic, led to its early application at Princeton University, New Jersey

Nyalic was chosen for 'the look' it gave the panels, the long service life and most importantly the ability to be easily maintained in the field.

The Nyalic process surpassed the client expectations with the standard of finish. Winter or summer - the results with Nyalic are truly quite exceptional.
